

PROJECT DJ SLAM

Your audience wants the versatility and massive repertoire that only a DJ can provide. But they need more than a body behind a table. They want visual stimulation that matches the energy of the music pounding out of the sound system.

Project DJ SlaM is your solution!

Picture two performers housed in state of the art percussion cages. Picture arms flying, drums pounding, music pulsating, and an audience that is on their feet all night long! The combination is electric!

This is what your hip, young audiences have been looking for. High energy music, plenty of audience interaction, and visual excitement that just doesn't stop. Not just a DJ, not a band.....

This is the future of musical entertainment....

This is Project DJ SlaM!
