John Holley is an American musician, singer and songwriter from Orlando, Florida. Although primarily a vocalist and guitarist, he is also a jazz saxophonist.

Holley released two studio singles in 2019, "keep u mine" and "PROLEMS", available on all music platforms, including Spotify, iTunes, Amazon Music and YouTube. In the same year, Holley also co-wrote R&B artist James Alexander Adkin's single "Overthinking", which was featured on the pilot episode of Tony Baker's "Baker's Boys". In January 2020, Holley released his first official lyric video for the single "PROLEMS". He has performed with Grammy award-winning percussionist Poncho Sanchez, drummer Max Weinberg (of Bruce Springsteen's E Street Band and bandleader for Late Night with Conan O'Brien) and R&B artist R.Lum.R. Holley performed at 2019's highly publicized "Krashlyn" wedding of USWNT teammates Ali Krieger and Ashlyn Harris. He has also performed for Beatles legend Sir Paul McCartney and actress Halle Berry.

Along with performing his original works, Holley likes to interpret contemporary Pop and R&B music, putting his own spin on hits by Rihanna, Justin Bieber, Sam Smith, The Weeknd, Drake, Taylor Swift, Zayn, Ed Sheeran, Beyoncé, Maroon 5, and more.

Although primarily a vocalist and guitarist, Holley is also a jazz saxophonist and plays an eclectic mix of pop, R&B hip-hop, folk, reggae and jazz and known for his vocal range, rhythm guitar skills and improvisation during his live shows. He also often uses a looping machine; this plays a major part in Holley's solo, duo and certain trio performances. Holley also plays saxophone at most gigs.
